Applicants can search and browse new vacancies, apply for jobs, and view the detailed information about leading Kharkov employers.

Employers have the ability to browse applicants' CVs and send job ads to appropriate candidates. Employers also can see the information about leading recruiting agencies.

The messaging system is available for both employers and applicants.

Subscription for vacancies

Applicants can save the search criteria they use and subscribe for new vacancies.

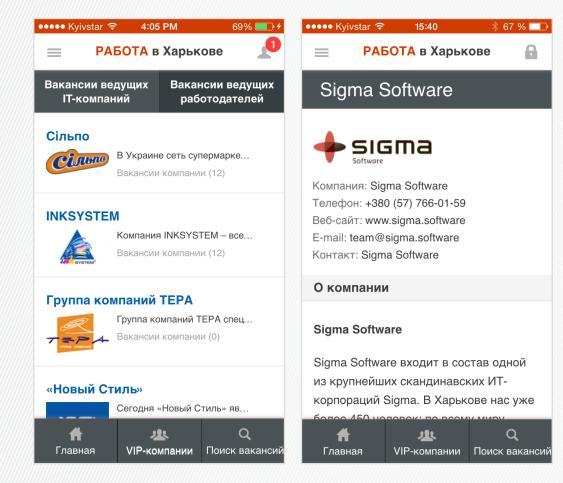

Every day, they will receive by email notice of new job openings that fit their search criteria.

Users can create new subscriptions as well as manage the existing ones.

Favorites

If an applicant likes a particular vacancy, he can save it to Favorites. That means there's no need to look for this vacancy in the main list again.

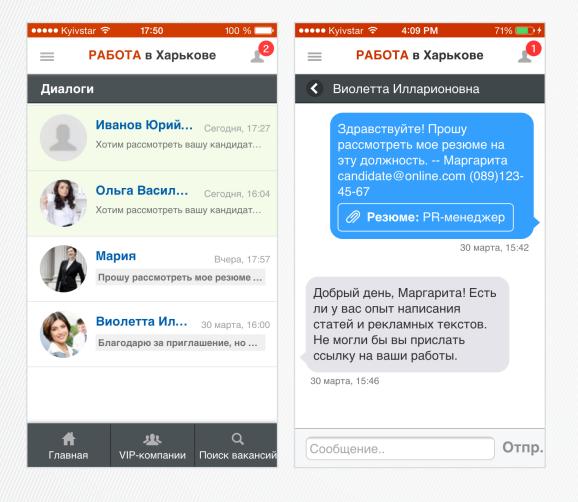

VIP Companies

is a section for users to browse the list of leading Kharkov employers.

Each company has a personal page with its detailed information and the list of available vacancies.

Internal messaging system

The applicant sends the CV to an employer as a message. The employer can respond to the message and continue to communicate with this applicant.

The application stores the history of all written communication in the Messages section in the app and on the Jobs in Kharkov website. The user can always go back to pick up and continue a conversation from the app or from the website.

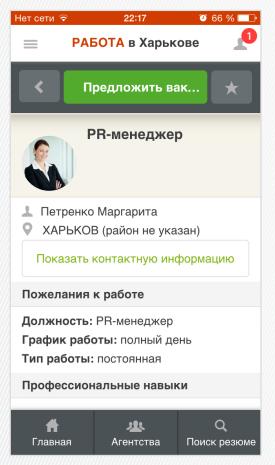

Push notifications

Each time a user gets a new message sent from the app or from the Jobs in Kharkov website, the app informs him by sending a push notification to his phone.

Registered users, who have subscribed for vacancies, regularly receive notifications about new job ads on the website.

Employer's interface

Mostly, the functionality the employers get is similar to the functionality the applicants have. However, features for employers focus on the candidate search.

Employers can:

- Search for and browse applicants' CVs and view their contact details;
- Add interesting CVs to Favorites;
- Subscribe for new applicants' CVs, manage subscriptions, and receive notifications about new CVs;
- Invite appropriate applicants to apply for a particular job;
- Communicate with applicants via messages;
- Browse through the list of leading recruiting agencies;
- Use message templates to notify certain applicants about a job opening.

TECHNOLOGIES

- Front-end: HTML5, CSS3, Ajax, JavaScript: jQuery and jQuery Mobile
- Server-side: PHP and MySQL
- Data exchange between the server-side and the app: JSON API
